Company Overview

Avin Trading Company has started its activity as a professional company in the field of consulting, designing, construction and development of industrial semi-industrial and ice making water treatment systems. This company is relying on expert and experienced engineers and by creating a dynamic and efficient environment the company has managed to produce and develop various types of industrial and semi-industrial water treatment systems and ice makers. Avin has turned into a prominent brand in this field by purchasing up-to-date machinery, advanced equipment and by gathering an expert team that meets the needs of businesses, traders and general consumers in the region.

Business description

Water is one of the most essential and fundamental resources needed for daily activities and we depend on it in our daily life. 97% of the water on earth is saltwater; only 3% is freshwater including frozen glaciers and polar glaciers. Therefore, the supplement of fresh water for people in a community is a significant and vital matter.

Many countries in the world design, develop and produce various types of homemade and industrial desalination plants due to the extraordinary importance and profitability of this issue, Germany ranks as the biggest producer of such products with 14% of customer`s needs among the other countries. Italy, France and Spain rank second to fourth largest producers of these products in the world. Avin Trading Company strives to meet the needs of freshwater for customers and people in the society by designing and developing up-to-date and modern machines.
